LEARNING

SUPPORT

POLICY

Maintaining Timely and Accurate Records

Some students with a diagnosed and documented disability may not require any personalised adjustments beyond the resources and services available for all students at the school. If this LP. Other students may receive focussed support from an aide in specific lessons - e.g. language or mathematics lessons, while still others may require considerable individual support that entails alternative activities away from the class or even away from the school.

All adjustments that are made in recognition of needs will be noted in their ILP. These adjustments will vary according to the specific need that has been identified, and may for example be required only at specific times or in specific lessons. Parents/ Caregivers of all students with IL meet with the Learning Support Coordinator and the class teacher at least once per semester to review the implementation of the ILP.
